New GALILEO Password Today

August 15, 2008

The following announcement comes from Jocelyn Poole, Head of Information Services at the Henderson Library. Thank you.

The GALILEO password changes on August 15, 2008. The new password will be valid until January 3, 2009. To get the password, go to the library catalog and click on "Your Account." After you log in using your Eagle ID number, click the request button at the top of the screen to get the password. For more detailed instructions see <https://library.georgiasouthern.edu/forms/galpass.html>.

ONLY Georgia Southern faculty, staff and students may have this password.

Do not give this password to anyone who is not a student at Georgia Southern or employed by the University. Please do not post this password on publicly accessible web sites. If you give this password to your students, please ask them not to share it with anyone else.

GALILEO is a service of the ! University System of Georgia. The 150+ databases available through GALILEO may be reached from the GALILEO home page. The password allows you to have access to most of the databases when you are not on campus.

The GALILEO password also gives users working from home or other off campus locations access to the databases Georgia Southern subscribes to directly.

See <https://library.georgiasouthern.edu/forms/galpass.html> for more information.
